

Find the team you can rely on with H&J.

Putting relationship back in the people business.

About Our Company

H&J Petroleum Management & Consulting, LP was established in January 2015, driven by a vision to emerge as a distinguished industry leader in upstream and midstream project management, technical expertise, and field supervisory services.

About Our Process

- ✓ Scoping | Quick cost-effective scoping numbers
- ✓ Planning | Procedures, KPIs, and lessons learned
- ✓ Execution | Delivering on time and on budget
- ✓ Review | Feedback, reviews, and improvement

GOLD PACKAGE

Project Management

- We serve as a bolt-on drilling and completions department, offering comprehensive project management solutions.
- From project initiation to completion, we oversee and manage your entire project, ensuring smooth operations and successful outcomes.

SILVER PACKAGE

Field Expert Team Assembly

- If you have an in-house management team but require specialized field experts, our Silver Package provides a full team to support your project execution.
- Access our experienced and qualified professionals who seamlessly integrate with your existing team, providing the expertise needed to achieve project success.

BRONZE PACKAGE

Customized Consultancy

- With your management and field teams in place, this package fills the gaps by offering tailored consultancy services at any operational level.
- The right consultants to meet your specific needs. Whether it's engineering or wellsite consultancy, your overall operations efficiency is our goal.

Project Management and Consulting

Our priority is thoroughly vetting our candidates based on shared principles and values for your available positions and projects.

More About

H&J Petroleum Management & Consulting

- The foundation of the H&J partnership was meticulously laid by its three founding partners, Matt Hood, Nick Hood, and Michael Johnson, who were deeply committed to establishing a robust framework based on core principles.
- These principles include unwavering faith, prioritization of long-term value over short-term gains, a relentless pursuit of excellence, and a strong emphasis on the power of teamwork.
- At H&J, we hold a core value rooted in our unwavering faith that Jesus Christ is the Son of the one true God. We strive to manage our lives and our business through the guidance and teachings of Christ, recognizing His presence as the cornerstone of our endeavors.
- We firmly believe in prioritizing long-term value over short-term gain. By considering eternity as the ultimate perspective, we approach every decision and action with careful thought and consideration. Our commitment lies in building lasting value and making choices that align with our principles, ensuring that our actions today positively impact the future.